

Cris Zertuche Wong

Board Director

Cris is a managing director in Real Estate within Goldman Sachs Asset Management, serving as chief operating officer for the US Real Estate business. She serves as co- sponsor of the Dallas Hispanic/Latinx Network. Previously, Cris was chief of staff and chief operating officer of the US business in the Realty Management Division. She also served as chief of staff for the Dallas office from 2010 to 2015. Cris joined Goldman Sachs as a vice president in 2010 and was named managing director in 2021. Prior to joining the firm, Cris worked at Dallas-Fort Worth International Airport for 10 years as head of internal communications and workforce diversity.

Cris serves on the Board of Directors of Fair Park, a national historic landmark in Dallas, and co-chairs the Texas Women's Foundation Hispanic 100 Latina Giving Circle, a philanthropic initiative that funds nonprofits supporting Latina causes.

Cris earned a BS in Communication from the University of Texas at Austin in 1991.